

How do we currently promote safeguarding with the children at Ashmead?

- In outstanding schools, the curriculum is flexible, relevant and engages pupils' interest. It is also used to promote safeguarding, not least through teaching pupils how to stay safe, how to keep themselves from harm and how to take responsibility for their own and others' safety.

- DfE 2014

- Apart from PSHE, where else in the curriculum are we providing opportunities to promote safeguarding?
- Are we considering SMSC (social, moral, spiritual and cultural) development of children within lesson plans?
